INSTRUCTIONS

1. Sketch the snakes on the glass by drawing a wavy line, snaking down one side of the glass. Reverse the snake on the opposite side so that the tail is at the top and the head is at the bottom.
2. Use a #6 Script Liner to fill in the snake body on the front with 2-3 coats of Cant-elope. Paint the other snake with 2-3 coats of Spruce It Up.
3. Use a #6 Script Liner and #10 Liner to fill in the background with 2-3 coats of Rawhide.
4. When the snakes are dry, use a #10 Liner to add a diamond pattern going down the back of the snakes. The Cant-elope snake pattern is Spruce It Up and the Spruce It Up snake pattern is done with Cant-elope. Paint 2-3 coats of color to make sure it's nice and bold.
5. Use a #10 liner to add an eye on the snake with 1 thick coat of Rawhide.
6. Sketch the sideways diamond pattern on the base of the glass.
7. Use a #6 Script Liner to fill in the pattern alternating between Spruce It Up and Cant-elope.
8. Use the #6 Script Liner to paint the base of the glass with 2-3 coats of Basketball.
9. When the base is dry, outline the pattern with 2-3 coats of Bluebeard using the # 10 Liner.
10. When the snakes are dry, use a #10 Liner to add detail to the snake. 2-3 coats of Basketball stripes on the tail of the snake for rattlers. Eyes, tongue, stars, and outlines with 2-3 coats of Bluebeard.
11. Use the back of paintbrush to add Bluebeard dots along the body of the snake.
12. Use the Fan Brush to paint the inside of the glass with 2-3 coats of Dandelion.
13. Use the eraser of a pencil to dot the rim of the glass with Bluebeard.
14. Clear glaze and fire to cone 06.
